

2024 SUMMER PROGRAMS FOR DEVELOPING OPERA SINGERS

Are you tired of the money it costs to get an education in opera?

Are you frustrated with how difficult it is to get operas on your resumé?

Do you know how to get jobs, get an agent, or build a career?

New York Opera Conservatory will produce two five-week summer programs in 2024. Each session will give you an opportunity to put full leading roles or smaller roles on your resumé. At New York Opera Conservatory, we are committed to being a “trade school” for the opera craft: a hands-on approach where you spend more time doing and less time theorizing. Finally, an affordable way for young singers to build their resumes, learn the details of the opera business, and, of course, get work.

Session 1 (June 3th-July 7th)

Opera: Il Trovatore by Verdi
(in Italian)
Fully Staged

Session 2 (July 8th- August 11th)

Opera: Don Pasquale by Donizetti
(In Italian)
Fully Staged

The Conservatory is organized and directed by Dan Montez, General Director of the Taconic Opera in Westchester County. Montez has directed the company for twenty-seven years, and is an accomplished opera singer, concert-level pianist, coach, composer, conductor, and pedagogue. He lectured for a number of years at the Classical Singer conventions and written many books, including: Don't Believe It: How to follow your dreams in spite of those who say you can't; Singing for your Supper: What they don't teach you in school about an opera career; and Singing in Your Sleep: The personality you will need to have a career in opera.

See website for application and a list of all roles available:

The cost of each session will also include coaching of your roles, lectures on the business of opera, Master Classes, and working seminars in acting. Operas will be fully staged and may even be quadruple cast (depending on ability). Other opportunities for those who may not be ready for prime-time, may include smaller roles, assistant directing or stage managing the full operas. Activities and lectures are held evenings during the week and Saturdays. Coachings can be arranged during the days according to your schedule.
